listing.download.description

ConsoTrust is an online platform (SaaS) for food brands and retailers, introduced since September 2019 by the two co-founders of the AllergoBox application.

By 80% of distributors in France and more and more manufacturers, ConsoTrust puts artificial intelligence to good use through two complementary modules between them:

ConsoTrust Data Services intended to guarantee the compliance of brands' products (up to 40% errors depending on the brands) and to automate the calculation and structuring of hundreds of consumer attributes (scores, environment, origin, health, etc., allégations/labels)) à from all types of media (texts or visuals).

ConsoTrust Business Services leverages the reliable and enriched data from ConsoTrust Data Services to offer benchmark, improvement and simulation services for ranges according to the multiple consumer attributes available on the platform. Sales data can also complement services through data exchange partnerships between ConsoTrust and the main panelists.
