Paris (75010), France

listing.download.description

How can you ensure that the barcodes you print to identify and trace your products will be readable by all your business partners once they leave your factory and how do you ensure that the data is properly encoded?

Axicon has been the world leader in the quality of bar codes for more than 40 years, and is the only expert manufacturer present live on the market.

With its expertise "codes and agrave; "bars" unique and recognized in the industry, Axicon develops and manufactures equipment of compliance and bars and accompanies the establishment and implementation of your control-work system.

Major players in retail, cosmetics, pharmaceuticals, automotive, printing, agri-food, etc. Axicon trust their control of the barcode quality.
