listing.download.description

CPV ASSOCIÉS is a consulting firm in the optimization of global logistics at the service of the performance of industrial, commercial, logistics services and public bodies.

Our mission is to support the logistics organizations of companies in the search and obtaining the performance of their flows of goods and information, from sourcing to the end customer on all supply chain processes.

Our supply chain consulting design is structured in a structured and pragmatic way that combines both short-term performance research and longer-term optimization of logistics schemes and organizations.

The consultants of CPV Associeutes, specialized in logistics, all have a confirmed experience of the world of industry and mass distribution in international settings. This allows us to quickly identify the most adapted optimization solutions to improve your logistics performance.

Our main customers are industrial groups, generalist and specialized distribution chains, logistics providers and public institutions.

Our concept of logistics is based on consultation between different players, end customer satisfaction, compliance and application of international standards and environmental concerns.
