Digitize your exchanges with eBusiness eXpert

Joinville-le-Pont (94340), France listing.download.description

eBusiness eXpert has been actively developing software services and providing advice in the specialized field of B2B electronic exchanges (EDI) and electronic invoicing since the late 1990s. It can assist your business in choosing appropriate solutions for the electronic exchange of documents such as invoices (finance), orders and shipping notices (logistics) or medical services (health insurance).

Our objective: help you choose the best solution adapted to your needs and realise your project within the existing technical and financial constraints.

We are able to meet all your expectations, whatever your IT system's level of complexity, company's size and your sector of activity, by relying on both our in-house expertise and a network of competent and reliable partners.
